Our philosophy

Lotus Care Ash Cottage is a family business, with the Directors still taking a personal interest in the structural fabric, staff teams and care delivery in the home. Our team personally cares and it shows. This approach underpins the atmosphere in Lotus Care Homes which all provide a homely, yet high quality environment in which choice and independence are actively encouraged.

The Home is unique in style, setting and care delivery but offers high quality care at a fair price – and, most importantly, provides people with a real 'home'.

Our care

We offer many levels of different services, from dementia and residential care right through to the end of life care.

Residential care

Our Residential Care Home provides accommodation, meals, and 'personal care'. Personal care can include assistance in getting up or going to bed, eating, washing, dressing, using the toilet and help with medication administration.

Residential care provides you with:

- Day to day support
- A comfortable and safe environment to live in
- Activities of real interest and enjoyment
- Privacy and dignity
- Support for your physical, spiritual, emotional and social needs

Dementia care

All of our staff are trained to provide dementia care, we try to create a home-from-home environment, where familiar objects can be seen to help with orientation and conversation points. This includes reminiscence activities as well as enabling residents to continue helping with daily domestic tasks around the Home, such as washing up, dusting, laying dinner tables, and so on – if of course they like this!

As well as our 'Dignity Champion' the Home has a 'Dementia Champion' who leads on this area of work, maintaining standards and incorporating latest good practice.

Cornerstones of care

Our aim is to provide the highest possible standards of care to all our residents, by providing an environment that can truly be regarded as their home

Highly trained staff

Our staff have a genuine care for residents' needs and comfort, complimented by high levels of training and experience. This allows staff to empathise with residents and tailor their care with acute understanding of needs, concerns, and desires. Several staff have specialities in the field of mental health care or dementia, to establish confidence in care and to offer complete peace of mind.

Well maintained environment

All areas of the Home are kept clean, comfortable and up to date. We continually review our property to high standards, so that they remain safe and indeed 'homely'. Outside, our beautiful secluded gardens and lawns are kept perfect for a stroll, admiring the flowers or simply with a book, listening to the birds and enjoying the outdoors.

Social life and leisure

We believe that social and leisure aspects of life are integral parts of care. We enable maximum independence where possible and, most importantly, help people to have some fun! Our experienced staff coordinate exciting and varied activity programmes for residents. All activities are well planned and adequate notice given to allow residents relatives, friends and staff to participate if they so wish.

Tasty, nutritional food

We understand the importance of a balanced, nutritional diet, but also of making mealtimes a social and enjoyable occasion. Residents' families are welcome to join them for our varied, delicious and home-cooked meals and special dietary requirements are catered for, with menus tailored with consideration to not only nutrition, but taste!

Consistently high standards of service and care

At Ash Cottage our highly and experienced team ensure that individuals' needs are met and that residents truly feel this is their home.

We are particularly sensitive to the feelings of dementia sufferers and are well practiced in obtaining maximum quality of life for those with this distressing condition.

Ash Cottage has a programme of stimuli which we believe promotes independence and fulfilment for all but, in particular, for individuals with dementia who may have some difficulties with memory and orientation.

We offer delicious home-cooked meals and aim to ensure that dining is a pleasant experience for all, with any assistance needed being given in a discreet manner. Some people in old age or dementia can lose interest in food and we work hard to ensure that meals reflect choice, are nutritious and appealing. With the dining room placed near the kitchen, the smells of cooking help to promote a healthy appetite.

Residents are welcome to invite guests to dine at any time and we particularly invite friends and relatives when special occasions or celebrations take place in the Home. Assistance can be provided to enable residents to dine in their room, or in the lounge if some privacy is required.

We take the quality of service we offer very seriously and client satisfaction is paramount. In addition to the regulated quality assurance requirements, we have a suggestion box, hold a relatives' forum and produce a regular newsletter. Residents' views, and those of their families and friends, are acted upon to ensure that residents' living experience at Ash Cottage could not be bettered.

Ash Cottage is an intimate care home, looking after the needs of just 24 residents in a tasteful and comfortable environment. It is situated in the beautiful village of Edenfield to the North of Bury in Lancashire between Ramsbottom and Rawenstall. The Home is close to all local amenities and easily accessible by the M66 motorway linking from the M62 and M60 motorways.

A converted luxury farm cottage first built in 1886, it has listed status. There are two lounge areas each offering a different view of the stunning local scenery and gardens. One lounge is off the original cottage and has retained the ceiling beams. The second very spacious lounge is a converted barn featuring a round window and original beamed fireplace.
